GREAT GATHERING OF DEMOCRATS

Men From All Parts Of The State In Attendance At The Great Love Feast Held In Madison.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., July 28.—At a dinner in the University of Wisconsin gymnasium last night, at which were present most every prominent democrat in the state of Wisconsin, a member of the national democratic committee seriously proposed that Col. William J. Bryan be the presidential candidate of the party in 1908 and said that the American people and the democratic party everywhere were approaching unanimity of mind in favor of this proposition. T. E. Ryan of Waukesha, the national committeeman from Wisconsin, declared that the sentiment of the American people was today one of vindication of democratic principles, the sentiment of the democratic party was one of favor to Col. Bryan as the man who as standard bearer of the party could lead to victory, and he said that the time is even now not too early for the preliminary organization to be effected, so that the sentiment of the party and of the American people could be cemented and could express itself.

Large Gathering.
It was the largest democratic gathering of this character that has been held in Wisconsin since the last Bryan democratic campaign. Some 400 of the leading democrats of the state, members of the legislature, by whose united invitation, the function was announced; members of the state central committee; the Wisconsin member of the national committee, C. A. Walsh of Ottumwa, Iowa, secretary of the democratic national committee during two Bryan campaigns; democratic leaders from every county in the state, were included in the gathering, as well as a number of prominent republicans, of local and otherwise. National Committeeman Ryan was the first speaker of the evening and almost at the outset he declared his firm belief that the democracy was all over the country approaching unanimity of mind in favor of Mr. Bryan as the presidential standard bearer in 1908.

The Republicans.
He said that the republicans had achieved popularity in not a single instance by carrying out pledges in the republican platform, but by violating things that were found in the republican platform and not in the republican platform. This showed, he said, that the people were, in favor of the things for which Bryan stands and that the time is ripe for the proposal of Mr. Bryan's candidacy. The other speakers, including C. H. Weiss of Sheboygan, the only democrat in congress from Wisconsin, reiterated comments to Bryan, with presidential favor, so much so that the purpose of the dinner was to have these presidential statements made so as to give the public. They certainly took well with the dinner gathering tonight. Vociferous and prolonged applause greeted each Bryan presidential suggestion, and it appeared necessary for the guest of honor to take notice of the situation. He said that he was soon going to travel for an extensive period in Europe and lost his speech on the matter be misconstrued, he would say that while he appreciated the kindness of the speakers it was too early to say who the standardbearer should be.

Eryan's Speech.
Mr. Bryan then took up the tariff question and showed the fact that American goods were being sold more cheaply in foreign countries than in this country so strongly the wrong of the present tariff system that even republicans were demanding a revision of the tariff. He said that the United States government was having a very plain illustration of this fact now in the fact that the steel rails needed for the Panama road could be purchased more cheaply by $8 a ton in Europe than they could be here. Whichever horn of the dilemma the government accepted Mr. Bryan said the people were going to ask why they are being obliged to pay the burden of that tariff. Mr. Bryan said the president might try to reform the tariff and if he did he declared he would be deserving of sympathy as he would have lots of trouble.

Expects Nothing.
"Personally," said Mr. Bryan, "I do not expect any tariff reform legislation."
Mr. Bryan said that the democratic party had been vindicated on the tariff question.
"Eight years ago," said Mr. Bryan, "I advocated an enforcement of the criminal law against trusts. I said if the law was not strong enough to strengthen it and if the courts could not uphold the strengthened law to adopt a constitutional amendment which would furnish ample legislation against the trusts. I was assailed because it was said the enforcement of the criminal law against trusts would injure a great many good men. Today however the government is starting an enforcement of the criminal law against trusts and seventeen members of the best trust are under indictment."

Are Dangerous.
"The democratic position is that private monopolies are dangerous and that the only way to cure the evil is to go to the root of the question and wipe out all private monopolies."
Janesville democrats were well represented at the banquet. About a dozen from the Bower City listened and applauded, among them being Alderman E. H. Connell, ex-Alderman E. J. Schmiedel, P. J. Monat, George Sutherland, John Decker, Don Farnsworth and Judge Earle.

CHINA WANTS TO BE WELL PROTECTED NOW

After Starting Boycott on American Goods, Asks Roosevelt to Look After Their Interests.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, July 29.—It is reported here today that China, which has shown so much bitterness toward the United States in the boycott matter now would be pleased if President Roosevelt could see his way clear to have some understanding reached regarding her interests in the peace negotiations. It has been represented to the President that China's concern about the terms of the peace to be signed between Russia and Japan is entirely natural, since she figured largely in the causes that precipitated the war. She wishes to impress upon Mr. Roosevelt the fact that she must hope for such an arrangement as will be permanent and insure her against further disturbance, for no one realizes better than China that Russia and Japan are apt to clash again on the same subject unless some sort of an alliance can be agreed upon. President Roosevelt, however, will maintain the position of reserve which has characterized his action from the beginning, however, but it is known that he feels certain that Russia and Japan in discussing peace will not confine themselves entirely to their own interests, but to the interests of all in that quarter of the world.

FRANCE MAY PROTEST AGAIN ON A TREATY

Thinks Germany Takes Unfair Advantage of Moroccan Treaty Agreement.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Paris, July 29.—Much concern is manifested in Cabinet circles over the report that when the Moroccan conference assemblies, a surprise will be springing upon the powers in the shape of a treaty signed between the German government and the Kabdiana tribe, which has been secretly ratified by the Sultan. No confirmation could be ascertained of the affair today, but it is understood from an indisputable force that by the treaty Germany gains permission to construct a port on the Mediterranean coast opposite the Zaffarine Islands. This, of course, is displeasing to France, and what causes the most dissatisfaction is the fact that the Sultan ratified the treaty without which sanction it would have no value.

RUSSIAN PRISONS A PROBLEM FOR CZAR

Too Many Political Prisoners for the Prisons That Are Now in Existence.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
St. Petersburg, July 29.—The Czar has been presented a new phase of the internal disorder and one which is causing him and his ministers a great deal of anxiety and perplexity that there are a large amount of political prisoners now on the government's hands, and no where to place them. With the strict vigilance of the police, additions are being made daily to the prisoners, who seem to be taken everywhere. It has been suggested that one of the superfluous royal palaces be pressed into service as a prison, but this idea will hardly be followed. Every prison in European Russia is overcrowded and owing to the war it is impossible to make use of the Siberian railroad to transport prisoners to Siberia. The only means of relief seems to be to construct a number of new prisons in the European governments, which the Czar will probably agree to do.

[SPECIAL BY SCHUPP-MURRAY.]
New York, July 29.—Panama Canal Commissioners Haynes and Harrod were passengers on the steamer Segurano from Colon today. When seen at Quarantine Harrod said: "We've been ten days on the isthmus looking over the work and preparing details and a report to present to the advisory board on Sept. 1. The principal work at present is the establishment of quarters for employees and the food supply. They have completed two hotels and have seven more under way. We expect to move all employees from the terminal points to scattered hamlets being then all under a close supervision. We had fifteen hundred employees under charge during June and only three cases of yellow fever."

Up in Mississippi.
Jackson, Miss., July 29.—The State Board of Health has been advised that there is a case of yellow fever at Lumberton, Miss., midway between Jackson and New Orleans. The patient is an Italian from New Orleans. "The Governor of Mississippi, in an address issued to the people of that state on the afternoon of the 26th, relative to the existence of yellow fever in New Orleans, used the following language: 'The usual dissimulation and evasion was practiced by the health authorities of New Orleans and the state of Louisiana, but finally an admission was extorted that yellow fever existed there.'"

Reflects on Louisiana.
"This is a serious reflection upon the State of Louisiana and the City of New Orleans, and upon officials as high-minded as the Governor of Mississippi."

RUSSIAN NEWS SHOWS DISCONTENT

Odessa Citizens Plead with the Government to Withdraw the Martial Law.

[SPECIAL BY SCHUPP-MURRAY.]
St. Petersburg, July 29.—The official list of casualties in the recent four days of rioting at Nisna, Novgorod, shows that sixteen were killed and fifty-three wounded. A deputa-tion of citizens from Odessa arrived here to implore the government to release that city from martial law. The citizens declare military regime has brought on a reign of terror and workmen are reduced to poverty and tradesmen losing heavily. It is expected the government will grant the petition. The Russ says that peace on the terms outlined by M. Sato can only be an armistice. The paper sees little chance for the conference ending successfully if Sato states the Japanese position correctly.

OPENING WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

TWELVE HUNDRED PEOPLE AT CHAUTAUQUA YESTERDAY.

TWO EXCELLENT ADDRESSES

Mrs. Logan Listened to by a Large Assemblage—Delightful Lecture by Dr. Grant.

(By Clarence Van Buren.) Gazette Headquarters, Chautauqua Grounds.—Though the showers more than once interrupted the address of the Mrs. John A. Logan and flooded the roadway from the street cars to the grounds, causing the visitors last evening considerable discomfort, the opening of Janesville's first Chautauqua was decidedly success-

Sheridan and Logan were his associates. Mrs. Logan was the wife of one of these men and was personally acquainted with the others and she knew whereof she talked. She paid due tribute to Grant, Sherman and Sheridan and their deeds but what was said of General Logan proved of most interest. During the war his services were scarcely recognized and have never been fully appreciated. Mr. Logan's entrance into the army was at the age of 18 when he volunteered for the Mexican war. At the close of this conflict he returned to civil life and commenced his public career. He was a member of congress from Illinois and in those stirring times just previous to the outbreak of the rebellion threats were made against his life. On the memorable occasion when he raised the first company of his Illinois brigade, so intense was the feeling against him that friends feared he would be assassinated, but before he finished speaking to the gathered mob one hundred and twenty men, who later formed Captain Logan's company of the thirty-first Illinois, had enlisted.

HICK'S FORECAST FOR NEXT MONTH

JUST A FEW TERRIBLE THINGS MIGHT HAPPEN.

POSSIBLY, AN EARTHQUAKE

Some Severe Electrical Storms and a Decided Change to Cooler Later On.

Hick's weather program for August shows many changes and a number of storms. Those who are planning to attend the Chautauqua programs will scan closely the predictions for the earlier days.

Will Be Warmer. The first storm period is regular and extends from the fourth of the month to the eighth, having its center on the sixth. The beginning of a Venus disturbance will be felt at this time, blending with the Vulcan period, with Moon and perigee, on the celestial equator and at first quarter. Storm conditions, in the form of falling barometer, increasing humidity and warmth with growing cloudiness will appear as early as the fourth. Storms and thunder gusts will quickly follow in western sections, and during the fifth to about the seventh these disturbances will pass over the country in their eastward sweep. Rising barometer will succeed these storms, bringing change to cooler from about the seventh to the tenth.

Drought to Continue. Central on the eleventh and twelfth is the second storm period, reactionary. But for the growing influences of the Venus period, a minimum of storm causes would exist at this time. Indications are for only moderate barometer and other changes. Threatening clouds with thunder

Household Hints.

Black Mammy's Way. Written for the Semi-Weekly Gazette. So many have written to me of late to know the method used by the old colored laundresses for washing quilts. They certainly did excel in this special work—and as it has become the fashion to use them again for cool nights in summer and fall, it behooves dainty, fastidious housewives to have them washed carefully. Most of them are hair-locks handed down to us and for that reason are very dear to us. My colored mammy who was authority in our household for years upon quilts and all other such household needs, left us her methods of doing up quilts, counterpanes, etc. She said: "Choose a dry, sunny day and begin early in the morning so that they will have plenty of time to dry. On this day a washing machine and wringer are indispensable unless the wash-women are blessed with unusual strength. Heat the water until quite hot, dissolve enough pearline into it to make a strong suds and pour it into the machine. Put the quilt in, work the washing machine vigorously for ten minutes, then pass the quilt through the wringer. Change the suds for clean and wash again. Three rinse waters will be necessary and a little bluing may be added to the last. Hang the quilt on the line fastened securely with clothes pins. When quite dry they are ready to use and are beautifully clean." Some put a little borax in the water to whiten, if the quilts are very light. In the olden time they used home-made soap. This is a quick method.

Russian Catches a Tartar. Arvine's Cyclopaedia states that in a battle between the Russians and the Tartars, a Russian soldier called to his captain, saying he had caught a Tartar. "Bring him along, then," was the captain's reply. "Ay, but he won't let me," said the soldier. It then came out that the Tartar had caught the soldier. The phrase, "Catching a Tartar," is said to have been the outcome of this.

FAKE HAIR PREPARATIONS.

Do Hair No Good, But Often Cause It To Fall Out. Many hair preparations are "fake" because they are merely scalp irritants. They often cause a dryness, making the hair brittle, and finally causing it to fall out. To cure dandruff, the germ must be killed. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Newbro's Herpicide is the only hair preparation that kills the dandruff germ, thereby leaving the hair to grow luxuriantly. Sold by leading druggists. WHY IT SUCCEEDS

Because It's For One Thing Only and Janesville Is Learning This. Nothing can be good for anything. Doing one thing well brings success.

Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only. They are for sick kidneys. They cure backache, every kidney ill.

Here is evidence to prove it. Mrs. George M. Carey of 1020 Pleasant street, Beloit, says: "I could hardly realize that the first box of Doan's Kidney Pills obtained at C. E. Emerson's drug store did me so much good. I used medicines from the doctor which helped me for a time but soon I became as bad as ever if not worse. I suffered from disordered kidneys for four years and the pain in my back was terrible. I could not sleep but at times had to sit up almost the entire night. When rising from a chair I was often compelled to place my hands on the sides of it and myself up to keep the strain off my back. I also suffered from the disturbing of my rest at night. After using Doan's Kidney Pills a short time these symptoms left me and since then I have felt well."

Pleanty more proof lies in the fact that the people of Janesville call at the People's drug store and ask what their customers report. For sale by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sold and ask what their customers report. Remember the name—Doan's, and take no other.

SCENE AT THE BOAT LANDING OF THE CHAUTAUQUA GROUNDS.

ful. Everybody present seemed to be thoroughly pleased with the entire day's program and appreciated the efforts of the management to furnish them with both instruction and amusement. According to conservative estimators fully twelve hundred were at the assembly in the afternoon, while the threats of more rain earlier in the evening somewhat limited the audience that listened to the delightful numbers by Ferguson's Jubilee warblers and the sparkling witty lecture by Dr. Roland Dwight Grant last evening.

Dr. Grant Presides. Dr. Grant, who will preside at all sessions of the Chautauqua and also furnishes the morning lectures and conducts the round table, made a few remarks in introducing the program of yesterday afternoon. He said that the future university of the world would not be housed in a few buildings on a campus or in a number of such institutions but would be "on wheels." The Chautauquas and Assemblies will be the future educators of the people and in the brief space of time since the first camp meeting for educational purposes was started at Chautauqua, Lake New York, the number of assemblies had grown to five hundred and would be double that within a few years. The welcoming address of Father Goebel was heartily received and H. C. Buell in response expressed the sentiment of the people toward the management. In behalf of those who are attending the sessions he thanked the officers and committees of the Janesville Chautauqua. He said that though the printed page had taken the place of the orator and lecturer in many instances, they will not pass away for cold type can never express entirely what a speaker is able to with the flash of his eye, the gestures, his own personality shining through that which he says and the tones of his voice.

Singing Delightful. The two afternoon concerts by the Dixie Jubilee singers were highly entertaining. The peculiar charm of the negro voice lent to the attractiveness of their numbers. Mrs. Logan, the wife of one of America's great generals being the speaker of the afternoon and her topic being one that appealed to the patriotic side, the Never Lost a Battle.

Sherman and Logan were close friends but on the field before Atlanta when a glorious Union victory was won, Logan fought without orders and in result was removed from the command of the army of the Mississippi. All the misunderstanding caused was wiped out long before either passed from this life and Sherman's regret for the act was many times shown. On many battlefields Logan won distinction and it was he who saved the day when the gallant general McPherson fell. It can be said of him and of no other general on either the union or confederate side that he never lost a battle when in command. His motto was "my country, may she always be right, but right or wrong, my country forever." General Logan was the author of Memorial day and had much to do with the founding of the Grand Army. On account of the rain which interrupted Mrs. Logan's address the reception was held before she completed. The Grand Army turnout was one of the largest in the last few years, more than a hundred being present. Col. Kimbly, who served under Logan, made a few remarks following Mrs. Logan's lecture. He said the veterans and their wives had been looking forward to the occasion for some time. Under the command of Captain Marlow the old soldiers saluted and gave the G. A. R. cheer.

Dr. Grant's Lecture. After a concert by Ferguson's Jubilee Singers at half past seven last evening, Dr. Roland Dwight Grant lectured. His theme was "Snakes in Paradise," and was taken from Michael Angelo's great painting by that name, which adorns the Sistine Chapel in Rome. The Garden of Eden or Paradise, he said, was not a certain spot on the earth, under the sea or in the clouds, but it was simply the innocence of childhood. Every man is born in the garden of Eden and driven out because he eats of the forbidden fruit. The story of Adam is not a legend but true defacto tale. As Adam and Eve know nothing of cares or burdens so babes are ignorant of all troubles until their eyes, by partaking of the fruit of knowledge, become opened. Then when a child learns something he wishes to find out more. He has an appetite to learn, but when he has

ANDREWS TRIED FOR EXTORTING MONEY

Prominent New York Lawyer Brought to the Bar of Justice on Charges.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.] New York, July 29.—Champ I. Andrews, counsel for the County Medical Society of New York, with Dr. John H. Harris, appeared in court today in the hearing of the case brought against them by Mrs. Alice Stroeudler, wife of the famous alleged confidence man who claims that they extorted large sums of money from her. Andrews is one of the best-known lawyers in New York and the charges against him, created a great sensation, as he was arrested on the evening of a trip to Europe.

The Latest in the Bowery. Another form of order has just appeared in the restaurants of the east side. A newspaper writer recently entered a cafe in that region and hastily ordered a raw beef sandwich and a glass of malted liquor with which to wash it down. The waiter, his shirt sleeves rolled above his elbows, called to the waiter of the lunch: "One cannibal sandwich and bunch of fog."—New York Times.

company rendered "America." "The Star Spangled Banner," and "Yankee Doodle." The final verse of the latter was sung to Mrs. Logan and she, with the grace that marked her actions during the reception, recognized the honor paid her. The song "Illinois," which is the favorite of Mrs. Logan, captivated the audience. In opening her address Mrs. Logan accused Rev. Goebel of being a mind reader for he had said about the Chautauqua grounds in Mole's Grove and about Janesville just what she had planned while riding from the city to the assembly in the same carriage with him.

OPPORTUNITY.

Will You Grasp It?

The present wonderful prosperity of our great country indicates that there has been a great awakening. Well established business houses are expanding, new enterprises are being launched, and there is work for all who are willing to work and are capable of doing what this pushing, practical and progressive age requires.

There will be high-grade work and low-grade work, with a corresponding degree of reward. If you are content to do the common place, if you aspire to reap the rewards given for efficient brain service, you must have your brain powers cultivated and trained to render the kind of service the world is willing to reward. And so young man, young woman,

NOW IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY.

The prizes of life are at your command if you get out and hustle for them.

Our mission is to prepare young men and women to be serviceable to themselves and to humanity by a training to do intelligently "the work that the world wants done." The successful service we have rendered others is our best warrant for what we can do for you.

During this month we have placed half a dozen students in our city, besides a number of others in other places out of town. And yet we have had a number of places we might have filled if we had had persons ready.

New York, July 29.—The Tribune's Washington special says the special object of the ex-rebel General Dick Taylor in visiting Washington is to interview the President for an interview with Jeff. Davis. Major General Pleasonton has been assigned to the command of the District of Wisconsin. Headquarters at Milwaukee, Wis.

The Normal School.—Editors Gazette.—Allow me to inquire through the columns of your paper, why you are so strenuous in urging the location of a Normal school at this place. Are we not sufficiently taxed already without incurring the burden necessary to secure such an institution here? I should like to bear the expression of property owners on this subject.—TAX-PAYER.

Remarks.—In reply to our correspondent we would say we advocate the location of a Normal school in this city, because we believe it would be of immense benefit to the place in every point of view. It would not only give us a more extensive reputation abroad, but it would call together a class of persons who would help to elevate the intellectual tone of the community, and by calling to this point a greater population would in time return to us tenfold every dollar necessary to secure such an institution here. We should be glad to hear from the heavy tax payers because we understand that most, if not all of them are decidedly in favor of the project.

OSTEOPATHIC NOTES

That You May Know of Osteopathy and What It Is Doing For Humanity.

Sciatica. Neuralgia. Lumbago. Stiff-neck, etc., are quickly relieved by Osteopathy.

Nature's way of doing things is always the best and whatever assists her most in ridding the human body of disease is the same and right way and she demonstrates it plainly through her handmaid, Osteopathy.

Osteopathy replaces weakness, languor, despair with strength, energy and hope; it revives the tired, fogged brain; banishes gloomy forebodings and brings back the force and power of youth. The dull, listless eye becomes bright; the pale, sallow cheeks grow ruddy and glow with health.

What are those sore spots in your back? Do you know? Have you often wondered? Did you ever ask a doctor? Did he seem much interested? What did he tell you? Did he remove them? Have you got them there yet? Then why not go to an Osteopath and have them corrected? Do you not know that Osteopathy says these sore spots along the spinal column are associated with various diseases; and may be the direct cause of your ill health; and that such "lesions" ought to be corrected? Then why carry sore spots with you through life when probably a few Osteopathic treatments would remove them?

C. S. Carr, M. D., editor of "Medical Talk," says: "The Osteopaths are the best anatomists in the world." They should be, for no medical college teaches anatomy and physiology so thoroughly. Instead of devoting the major portion of his time to cranking his head with materia medica and the vast jargon of compounds and formulas of the pharmacopeia, which may be popular at that time, but which are discarded a few years later for others, a la mode, as does the student of drugs, the osteopath spends the major portion of his time acquiring a knowledge of the human body, and its structure, conditions and functions, in health and disease, so that he may be the better able to judge of the problems that confront him in diseased conditions. The remarkable growth and popularity of this system is due to the cures perfected where other remedies failed. These cures have been largely due to the accuracy of diagnosis and to the application of the osteopath's intelligence in his knowledge of anatomy and physiology.

MARY ROGERS WAITS HER DECISION COOLLY

Vermont Woman Who Murdered Her Husband, Is Now Under a Reprieve.

No what Johann Hoch has been reprieved until the last of next month, or until the Supreme Court of Illinois can act upon his case, the attention of the morbid seeking world is turned to Mrs. Mary Rogers, accused, convicted and sentenced to die in Vermont for the brutal murder of her husband. Mrs. Rogers was to have died in June last, but the governor of the state was persuaded not to allow the death sentence until a further inquiry into the case was made. The natural repulsion of the public in seeing a woman hung was such that the reprieve was granted. The following is a brief story of the crime she was convicted of.

The Crime. Mrs. Rogers killed her husband, Marcus Rogers, in order that she might possess herself of $600, his life insurance, and marry another man. The murder was committed in Bennington on August 12, 1902, by the administration of chloroform. The circumstances leading up to the murder breathe of foul-conceit, cunning and a viciousness inconceivable in a woman.

Mrs. Rogers was deeply loved by her husband. Tiring of her life with this quiet, unpretentious man she left him. In her unfortunate life that followed in Bennington, she met a youth, barely seventeen years old, by the name of Leon Perham, a half breed Indian, who became enamored of her. Perham wanted to marry her. Mrs. Rogers had no mind for that, but kept Perham dangling by her side.

Mrs. Rogers felt in love with a well-known citizen of Bennington, who however was not aware of her passion for him. As a woman of the street she knew she could not win him and in her simple way betrouthled that once in possession of her husband's $600 life insurance money she would become an object of devotion and attention. With the thought came the plan to do away with Rogers, whom she had left. Rogers in spite of her life and shame had often times sent word to his wife to come to him and he would forgive and forget the past. His strong love for her and his willingness to forgive her were his undoing. She entered into a conspiracy with Perham who was her willing tool being led to believe that she would marry him.

Rogers was a powerful man and his end had to be accomplished by cunning and deceit. She wrote a letter that she was ready to come back, wanted to come back and would be forgiven her. Leon Perham turned state's evidence and on the stand he gave testimony, a recital such as has rarely been heard in the courts of law.

According to Perham Mrs. Rogers had written to her husband from whom she was estranged, asking him to meet her at 9:30 o'clock at night. After the meeting and pretended reconciliation Leon led the way into Morgan's grove, and by a winding path to the river. A great stone wall separated the grove from the river bank. The distance from the wall to the bank was less than a half dozen feet.

"May and I walked along with Rogers until we came to a break in the wall," said Leon. "She went through and we followed. It was cold and I had on a big overcoat. I spread this out on the ground and all three of us sat down. We were only a few feet from the edge of the river."

"May said she had a new trick with a rope."

"He laughed. May laughed too, and drew out a piece of clothes line. Then she said she'd bet she could tie me so that I couldn't get loose."

"I'll bet you can't tie me," said Rogers.

"He was as strong as an ox. May tied him and tried to tie him tight, but he just gave a heave and broke away. She tried it a second time and he broke loose without any trouble. She was getting worried. She tried it a third time, and when he broke loose again I saw that she couldn't tie him."

"Let me do it," I told her.

"I took the rope—a piece of clothes line. I said to Rogers: 'Kneel down and put your hands behind you.'"

"He thought it was fun and knelt down. I tied his hands behind him and he struggled but could not get loose. His back was towards May."

"I gave her a signal and she drew the vial of chloroform and the handkerchief from her bosom. She poured a few drops on her handkerchief—not very much—and put her arms around his neck. Suddenly she drew his head back to her lap. The move threw him on his hands, which were behind him so he was doubly helpless. Then she put the handkerchief to his nose. He sputtered. Suddenly she emptied the vial on the handkerchief, completely saturating it. He began to struggle."

"May: What does this mean?" he asked, heaving his body. What does it mean?"

"Jump on his legs," she said.

"I jumped on his legs to hold him. May had him gripped around the neck and pressed the handkerchief against his nose. His struggles were terrible. He threw me off as if I had been a kitten. He got one hand free and used it to help himself."

"But May clung to him and never once did the handkerchief get away from his nose. She had the grip of a tiger. He struggled and flung himself and her on the ground, and every time I came near him a heave of his legs or his free arm would throw me off."

"While he struggled his breath was deeper. Suddenly he became more quiet, and in a moment he was limp. May clung to him, even after he was quiet, pressing the chloroform-soaked handkerchief down over his face. When all was over she got up."

The body was rolled into the river.

A note was left, purporting to have been written by Rogers, that he had drowned himself. Mrs. Rogers' unseemly haste in her efforts to collect his insurance and other damning circumstances led to her arrest and indictment. Perham confessed and was sent to Windsor Prison for life. Mrs. Rogers was found guilty on December 22, 1903, and she was sentenced to be hanged on the first Friday in last February. She was twice reprieved by Governor Bell, the second reprieve expiring today.

Mary Rogers was twenty-two years old and little more than nineteen when she killed her husband.

PUZZLE OVER INSANE FILIPINO

Question of Right to Commit Him to American Asylum Arises.

Topeka, Kan., July 29.—Thomas Sonoga, a Filipino boy, was placed in the state asylum for the insane. He was brought to this country by Captain Bundy of the Sixth United States Infantry and kept at Fort Leavenworth for a time. The question has arisen, Must a Filipino be naturalized before he can be placed in an insane asylum in the United States? The board of control has clashed over the attempt to secure information, and rather than wait longer for federal information committed the boy. The Kansas state law provides that no alien can gain residence until he has declared his intention to become a naturalized citizen. This was not done by Sonoga's guardian. Information from the superintendent of the government hospital for the insane at Washington states that Sonoga could not be received in the hospital, and that he knew of no federal law providing for the case and treatment of such a case.

TRADE ACTIVITY DUE TO FARMERS

Great Yield of Wheat Tends to Enliven Business in Chicago.

WHOLESALESAERS ARE KEPT BUSY

Demand From City and Country Merchants Brings Joy to the Hearts of the Members of the Distributing Firms.

Chicago, July 29.—The weekly review of Chicago trade published by R. G. Dun & Co. says: "Agricultural conditions form a leading consideration in business circles at this time, these entering largely into plans and commitments for the immediate future. Winter wheat is well harvested in the southern region, the yield being heavy, and late advice shows other crops to be making reasonable advance, corn carrying the most excellent promise in Illinois. All indications favor an enormous increase in financial returns to the farmers. This is most encouraging to the manufacturing interests and means greater or highly sustained production and distribution of commodities.

"Demands upon factory output show more strength, retail dealings extended in necessities, and the jobbing branches gained in the volume of orders for fall staples, especially in clothing, footwear, food products and textile wares. Satisfactory reduction proceeds in merchandise stocks and widening buying appears in farm supplies.

Merchants Are Buying.

"The wholesale district gains in activity, personal selections showing a wide variety for both city and country trade, and the bookings included much for early delivery. Discount-taking is noted more frequently, while commercial defaults are slight and collections generally improving in promptness.

"Mill and factory production suffers less than the usual interruption from high temperatures. New building work is more in evidence, and additional effort is made to overtake prompt completion of various large structures for mercantile and financial use. There is also considerable railroad and bridge work coming forward. These factors stimulate the demand for enormous quantities of steel, lumber and other material.

"The iron departments maintain a very strong position. Mill and furnace deliveries run into vast tonnage, and although the output exceeds former records, there is no surplus of finished shapes or basic material.

Hides Are Lower.

"Receipts of raw material are heavy, except hides, which for the first time this season are lower. The market for hides, wool, leather and lumber have held very steady. Receipts of lumber are 44,585,000 feet, against 37,205,000 feet a year ago. Receipts of hides, 2,709,614 pounds, against 2,742,561 pounds.

"Metal users were heavier buyers of factory needs, and further gain is seen in machinery, forge and car work and in electric lines. Forwarding of manufactured product and raw material is an increasing item in transportation, and western roads make continued gains in earnings.

Grain and Live Stock.

"Primary foodstuffs were in steady request, but the offerings were liberal in the grain pits, and a lower average cost was established. The total quantity of cereals handled aggregated 7,616,372 bushels against 6,233,748 bushels in corresponding week of 1904, the receipts being 3,915,733 bushels and the receipts 3,697,759 bushels an increase of 21 per cent and 23 per cent respectively. The market for provisions was affected by shorter supplies of the raw material, and warehouse stocks have been reduced. Receipts of live stock were 237,351 head, against 135,279 head a year ago, when strikes interfered with killing at the yards.

"Failures in the Chicago district number eighteen, against eighteen last week and thirty-two a year ago."

OCEAN LINER TEUTONIC IS DAMAGED BY FLAMES

Fire Interrupts Electric Working of Steamship and Is Believed to Have Damaged Engines.

New York, July 29.—Fire threatened destruction to the steamship Teutonic of the White Star line Friday night while she was lying at her pier in the North river at the foot of Eleventh street. Flames broke out in the electrical room, and before they were extinguished did damage amounting to more than $5,000.

Nearly all of the machinery in the electric room was damaged and the entire electric working of the ship was interrupted. Water poured into the room and ran down into the engines, and it is thought that they are also damaged.

During the fire three members of the crew found themselves hemmed in by the flames and were carried to the pier in an unconscious condition by the firemen. The fireboat McClellan and the fire engines threw water on the flames for more than an hour. The origin of the fire is unknown.

SWARM OF BEES CAUSE DEATH

Blue Island Resident Stung, Falls From Wagon and Dies.

Chicago, Ill., July 29.—While fighting a swarm of bees that appeared over the load of hay on which he was working John Bauer, 59 years old, of Blue Island, tottered and fell from the load. He suffered injuries which later resulted in his death. The accident happened in a field a mile west of Blue Island. It was at first supposed that Bauer had fallen a victim to heat, and it was not until after an investigation of the swollen condition of his face and hands that the true cause was discovered. It is believed the pain and excitement caused heart failure.

TROLLEY CAR COLLIDES INJURING EIGHTEEN

Disastrous Wreck Occurs Near Mattoon, When Interurban Motors Come Together Head-on.

Mattoon, Ill., July 29.—The most disastrous interurban wreck ever known in this section of the state occurred late Friday afternoon, when two Charleston and Mattoon interurban cars collided head-on a quarter of a mile east of this city. Both cars were almost completely demolished and eighteen people were injured, a majority seriously, while one received injuries which may prove fatal.

Car No. 18, east bound, and No. 11, which drew a trailer, west bound, were the ones involved. No. 18 was loaded with passengers bound for Urban Park to witness a baseball game between Mattoon and Frankfort, Ind. A cornfield which borders the tracks at that point made it impossible for the motorist to perceive each other until they had nearly rounded a large curve and they were then powerless to avoid the crash. Among the injured are: Frank Krick, Dan Geaham (motorman), Miss Ethel Cook, William Cain, John Davidson, Ed Guthrie, W. E. Reeves, Springfield, Mo.; Glen Clegghorn, Horace Gilliland, Otis Yelton, J. V. Davis, J. D. Stone, Roy Earl, Patrick Harrington, Miss Nina Norvell. The damages will exceed $20,000.

PLATT AMENDMENT IS REJECTED BY CUBANS

House Refuses to Print It as Appendix to Constitution, Holding It Was Forced Upon Islanders.

Havana, July 29.—By a majority of one the house refused to include the Platt amendment as an appendix to the copies of the constitution which were directed to be printed for public distribution. The original proposition was to publish 50,000 copies without the Platt appendix and an amendment to include the appendix was defeated 15 to 16.

Enrique Villuendas, until recently a moderate, but now one of the most ardent supporters of General Miguel Gomez, the national liberal candidate for president, argued that the appendix was forced upon the constitutional convention by the American military government, and that since it was agreed to as a permanent treaty it was no longer a part of the constitution.

Fernando De Castro of Havana, an extensive sugar planter. It is announced, will be appointed secretary of agriculture. This office hitherto has been administered by the public works department.

The Face of Rossetti.

The Albion, a popular old London inn, if I remember rightly, was a favorite resort of Dickens. I never saw him there or indeed anywhere else, for he died before my arrival in London. I but one heard of him in such words. I saw there but once that weird, beautiful, wayward genius, Dante Gabriel Rossetti. My recollection of him is of a man who looked very much like a priest or a lay brother. I recall him as dressed almost entirely in black, and the black of what I may call the clerical cut and material. His sallow face, his ink dark eyes, his expressive face—all these things I recall as well as the stark and marsh potatoes over which he leaned as he talked vividly, but quietly, to his friend who was snipping with him. I was struck by the face, but I had no idea who it was. It was only years after, when I saw a portrait of Rossetti, that I recalled the face that had so much struck me as I leaned over steak and mashed potatoes and knew that it was the face of one of the inspired artists and poets of my time.—London M. Emiser at Dinner With Sailors.

Kaiser Wilhelm while at Kiel the other day inspected the cruiser Luebeck and partook of the rough fare of the sailors, says a special cable dispatch from Berlin to the Philadelphia North American. He arrived at dinner time and found that the crew was being served out of a huge pot containing a mixture of peas and salt beef.

"Well, my children, what have you for dinner today?" he asked.

"Peas, your majesty," was the reply. "That is excellent fare if it is well cooked," said the emperor, and he seized a plate, which he heaped high with food.

"That is culinary luxury," he remarked, when he had finished.

READY TO AGREE ON ARMISTICE

Spokesman for Japanese Says the Delegation Will Follow Precedent.

HOSTILITIES TO BE SUSPENDED

Declares It Has Been Custom in All Peace Negotiations During the Convention to Arrange Terms of Settlement.

New York, July 29.—"Japan is perfectly willing to agree to an armistice after the credentials of both peace delegations have been examined and approved."

"With this statement Aitar Sato, minister resident to the emperor of Japan and official spokesman of the Japanese plenipotentiaries, cleared up the uncertainty which has existed over the question of a truce between the armies in the far east.

"The examination of the credentials necessarily must be the first duty of the peace delegates," he continued, "to ascertain that all are qualified to act in the capacity to which they are represented. In the negotiations for peace that ended the Chinese war there was much delay because the credentials of one of the Chinese plenipotentiaries did not bear the emperor's seal granting him plenary powers.

Envoys Have Full Power.

"However, I think an armistice will be agreed upon after the commissions enter formally upon their work. It has been the custom in all peace negotiations to cease hostilities during the convention of peace plenipotentiaries."

Mr. Sato was asked as to the definite powers of the members of his commission and he said:

"They have power to reject any proposal and commit the Japanese government to any document they may sign, subject, of course, to the sanction of the emperor."

Regarding the reports that China intends asking an indemnity, Mr. Sato said:

"China could not ask any indemnity of Japan. It was her inability or unwillingness to keep Russia out of Manchuria that forced us into the war."

Precedence for Komura.

By his promptness in arriving on the scene of the negotiations, Baron Komura has scored one point over Mr. Witte, that of precedence at official functions, as when the envoys are presented to the president, are ushered aboard his yacht and are seated at his table. In Washington ambassadors rank in the order of their presentation to the president, and the same plan, it is reported, has been adopted to settle a perplexing question at this time.

M. Witte and Baron Komura are of equal rank, being commissioned as first plenipotentiaries, while Ambassador Kosen and Minister Takahira are of equal rank as second plenipotentiaries. The state department officials have a precedent in negotiations for the treaty of Paris of 1813.

'Tis Crustless Bread Now.

Sherry is the first of the great eaters to take up the crustless bread idea, says the New York correspondent of the Pittsburgh dispatch. A machine for the baking of the bread is being installed in his establishment, and in a few days patrons will get the latest gastronomic novelty served to them as the upper and lower decks of sandwiches or in the form of toast. There is only one crustless bread oven now in operation. That is owned by the Jersey City baker who supplies the Pullman palace car people. In the process of baking crustless bread is kept moist and remains so for ten or twelve hours. It does away with waste due to cutting crust from the ordinary baked loaf, and the use of a damp cloth to keep the loaf moist and prevent curling up is avoided. When taken from the oven the crustless bread is covered with a sort of skin or silky texture, which amply protects the interior of the loaf and is easy to masticate.

Manners of Japan's Police.

The police in Japan are expected to learn English. For their guidance a phrase book has been compiled. The following advice is taken from it, says the Liverpool police:

"Japanese police force consist of nice young men. But I regret their attitudes are not perfectly neat. When a comfortable come in contact with a people he shall be polite and tender in his manner of speaking and movement. If he is to be polite and tender with a civilized people is meek, but barbarian people is vain and haughty. They should imitate themselves to Caesar, the noblest hero of Rome, who has been raised the army against his own country crossing the Rubicon."
